

To my beautiful, amazing, intelligent wife, Andrea:

At first I was unsure on how to write this to you. I was not sure how else I could tell you how much you mean to me or how much I love you. It was then I realized all I have to do is look at you, and it all makes sense. Not only could I never run out of glorious things to say about you, but I can say everything I have told you already in so many different ways. Each descriptive word I use for you has so many synonyms, and each new word is unique carrying with it the most amazing image of you.

You are the most amazing woman I have ever met. There is a sense about you that just draws a person in. I fall even more in love with you each and every day, and all it takes is for you to look at me. Throw in a smile of yours, and I melt all over again. Sharing my life with you is the best and smartest decision I have ever or will ever make. I fight for you sweetheart, and I will always protect you and be with you. God placed you in my life, and I will always appreciate and adore that decision.

You are an amazing partner, best friend, and spouse. You are everything I am not, but you accept me for who I am. You are patient, loving, caring, and adoring. You do not get upset, but you stand your ground. You love me with everything you do, and I do not deserve it, but I am forever grateful. Your outlook on life is amazing, and your spirit is something to be admired. The way you look at me is so refreshing; its as if we fall in love all over again each and every day.

Your innocence and intelligence are so beautiful to me. I cannot imagine or even dream up a more perfect person. Everyone respects you, appreciates you, cares for you, and loves you. You are never alone in this world because you have an army behind you. I promise everything will be okay. No matter what happens, I know you have the strength to carry on. I know in my heart your life will be amazing and beautiful, and I will always be a part of it; I will always be with you.

To describe how you are as a mother is like trying to describe in words the most beautiful landscape or sunset or priceless work of art. It's not possible to convey such amazing emotions, but the effect it has when thinking about the idea is amazing. You are perfect to our boys. The care and love you provide them is unbelievable and so precious. I could not have asked for a better mother to my children. It is amazing to witness and watch you with them. It makes me smile from ear to ear just thinking about it.

All of my memories of you are great ones; from me driving you to tanning when I was trying to date you; to the day you called me after a lapse in talking; to our many dates and the day we became engaged in Hawaii; our many camping trips and vacations together; to the many nights at home snuggled on the couch. If we have argued, I do not remember. I do not have a single bad or upsetting memory of you in my mind. You are the most amazing person, and I will do anything for you. I will put up the fight of a lifetime to spend just a single day longer on this Earth with you.

Please remember you have given me a lifetime of happiness. A lifetime filled with joy, accomplishments, determination and love. You have made me the luckiest, most blessed, and happiest man to ever work this Earth. God most certainly broke the mold when He created you, and I am fortunate and blessed to have spent so many days loving and enjoying life with you.

I love everything about you. I love your smile. I love your laugh. I love when you are slap happy at night. I love how no matter how tired you are you still make time for your family. I love how caring and loving you are. I love the way you cook and take care of us boys. I love your hair, your eyes, your nose, and your lips. I love how well you take care of yourself. I love the way you dress. I love all of your nervous habits. I love when you sing and dance with the boys and me in the living room. I love our family walks and our trips to the island. I love how you are always willing to help out another human being. I love how you respect my opinion. I love that we love all of the same things. I love that we experience life with the same amount of enthusiasm. I love you Andrea, and everything you have done, are doing, and have set as your goals. I love you Andrea for the kindness in your heart, the strength in your step, and the intelligence in your mind. I love you with all that I am.

You have made me the happiest person alive, and I would not be where I am today without you by my side. You are my rock, my strength, my hope, and my determination. You make my world go around, and you make my life make sense amidst all of this uncertainty. You can calm my greatest fears and wipe away my saddest tears. You are an angel Andrea; there is not a doubt in my mind.

I love you sweetheart; yesterday, today, and always!

Love always and forever,

Your adoring husband
